

Eveleigh Industrial Heritage & Social History Is it “history” or worth preserving for the future?

For decades until closure in 1988, the Railway Workshops were a lynchpin of the local economy and the surrounding community’s social and political life. No less than three State Premiers emerged from the industrial struggles there. It is the centenary of the Great Strike of 1917 and some of the site is to be sold for redevelopment. REDWatch invites all to come and discuss the site's history, its relevance today, its preservation and interpretation for the future.

Thursday 3 August, 6:00pm - 7:30pm

The Factory Community Centre, 67 Raglan Street, Waterloo

This forum is hosted by REDWatch – a community action group in the Redfern, Eveleigh, Darlington and Waterloo

