

Waterloo South: What makes high-density work for the community?

The Waterloo South social housing redevelopment will create one of the densest areas in Sydney. What needs to be done to make it work, especially for those on low incomes?

Join REDWatch to explore these questions with some experts. Bring your questions and find out what to look out for when the exhibition happens.

Contact REDWatch to arrange participation from Counterpoint's Factory Community Centre, 67 Raglan Street Waterloo, if you can't join us online.
